

HITOTSUBASHI
UNIVERSITY

LSE - Hitotsubashi Lecture Series

Britain and the World: The Challenge of Europe

The London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE) and Hitotsubashi University have developed a partnership in academic exchange and research collaboration. To further strengthen the relationship, the two universities launched “LSE-Hitotsubashi Lecture Series” in 2012. The event offers a unique opportunity for participants to learn about cutting edge research in social science. This year, Professor Paul Kelly, a leading scholar in the politics of the United Kingdom (UK), will discuss UK’s membership of the European Union.

Date: Monday, 11 April 2016

Time: 17:00 - 18:15

Venue: Josuikai Centennial Hall

(Hitotsubashi University West Campus)

Map: <http://www.hit-u.ac.jp/eng/about/direction/guide/campus/e-campus/index.html>

Speaker:

Professor Paul Kelly
Department of Government
LSE Vice President for Education

- Language: English
- The lecture is free and open to the public.
- Contact: International Affairs Office, Hitotsubashi University
Tel: 042-580-8762 | Email: int-gj.g@dm.hit-u.ac.jp