In Response to the Novel Coronavirus Outbreak

Dear students,

In relation to the government classifying the novel coronavirus as a designated infectious disease, we ask that students respond to the situation in the following ways.

1. In regards to travelling to China

At this time, please refrain from making any temporary trips to China that are not for urgent reasons.

2. In regards to (re-) entering Japan from China

1) If you experience symptoms such as a fever or coughing while in China, consult a local medical institution.

2) If you experience the above symptoms upon entering Japan, you must report to the airport quarantine and follow their instructions.

3. After (re-) entering Japan from China

1) Once you have (re-) entered Japan, carefully monitor your health (for around 2 weeks) regardless of the presence of symptoms such as a fever or coughing, and refrain from leaving the house outside of urgent reasons.

2) If you experience the above symptoms, contact the health center of your jurisdiction and follow their instructions.
