

- At the initiative of the President, reorganize the research centers at HIAS, based on the assessment of the centers
- Establish a system that would enable the faculty who won large research grants to focus exclusively on their research at HIAS

HIAS: Hitotsubashi Institute for Advanced Study

Global Economic Systems

Health Policy and Economics

Management Innovation

Regional and SME Policy

EBPM

Anthropocen

Brain Research

Asia Policy Studies

Data-Driven Society

Global Governance

Research and Training of Economic Measurements

Cases of Applicants to the Transfer System to HIAS

Integrate the humanities and sciences based on the social sciences methods

Development of the social sciences through brain function measurement

Haruaki Fukuda

Associate Professor,
Director of HIAS Brain
Research Center

- Applying fMRI-based brain function measurement experiments to social sciences
- Our facilities are open to other research institutions

Mihoko Sumida
Professor,
Graduate School
of Law

Joint Research Projects with University of Cambridge

Legal Systems and AI

Identify the social, economic and theoretical impacts and implications of the introduction of artificial intelligence into the Japanese and UK legal systems, particularly the judicial decision-making

Chihiro Shimizu
Professor,
Graduate School
of Social Data
Science

Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (S)

Dynamics Prices of Goods, Services and Real Estate Japan: Understanding and Reconstructing Statistics Using Big Data

- Constructing a new model capable of explaining prices of goods, services and properties
- Collaborate with real estate research centers at leading universities including MIT, Cambridge, NUS and Tsinghua University